

Call For Participation

Deadline for applications: March 20, 2014

Dear Colleagues!

We are pleased to announce the 6rd International theoretical and practical conference “e-Kazan 2014” to take place from Monday, April 22th to Thursday April 24th, 2014.

The International Conference “e-Kazan 2014” invites researchers, practitioners and academic staff to present their research findings, works in progress, case studies and conceptual advances in areas of work where education and technology intersect.

The main objective of “e-Kazan 2014” is to highlight, promote and disseminate the new technologies and innovations in the field of e-learning. The wide scope of “e-Kazan 2014” should provide an excellent opportunity for sharing experiences, knowledge and ideas amongst researchers and scientists from academia, practitioners, vendors and government departments.

Venue description

Kazan is the capital city of the Republic of Tatarstan, Russia. With a population of 1,200,000 , it is the sixth largest city of Russia. Kazan lies at the confluence of the Volga and Kazanka rivers in European Russia. In April 2009, the Russian Patent Office granted Kazan the right to brand itself as the "Third Capital" of Russia. In 2009 it was chosen as the "sports capital of Russia". The Kazan Kremlin is a World Heritage Site.

There are 44 institutes of higher education in Kazan, including 19 branches of universities from other cities. More than 140 000 students are educated in the city.

Kazan Federal University, third oldest university in Russian Federation was founded in 1804.

Kazan is unique multi-national and multi-confessional city. Major religions in Kazan city are Sunni Islam and Eastern Orthodoxy. Minor religions are Catholicism, Protestantism, Judaism, Krishnaism, and the Baha’i Faith.

The conference will feature several excursions to the Kazan Kremlin and the Qol Sharif Mosque, Kazan museums, and Raifa Orthodox Monastery near Kazan.
